RESOLUTION

The Central Advisory Board of Education (CABE), the highest advisory body to advise the Central and State Governments in the field of education, was first established in 1920. It was dissolved in 1923 as a measure of economy and was again revived in 1935. It continued to be in existence till 1994. Since important decisions have been taken on the advice of CABE and it has provided a forum for widespread consultation and examination of issues relating to educational and cultural development, CABE was reconstituted on 12th December, 2008 for a period of three years and subsequently on 18th May, 2012. The tenure of the CABE has since expired on 17th May, 2015. CABE has an important role to play at the present times, particularly in view of the significant socio-economic and socio-cultural developments taking place in the country as also the wide ranging reforms taking place in the education sector. It is, therefore, desirable that the Central and State Governments, educationists and people representing different interests should evolve a participative process of decision making in education which enhances the federal structure of our polity.
