PREFACE

Removal of Illiteracy and imparting the knowledge of 3-Rs (Reading, writing and numeracy) to all the illiterate people in the age-group 15-35 in our country is the main target of National Literacy Mission established in 1988. Keeping this in view, total literacy campaigns have been launched in 561 out of 588 districts have been covered under the post literacy programme and 95 districts under the programme. It is regarded that basic literacy can be meaningful for an individual only when he is able to use it in his day to day life and only when it enables him to earn his livelihood. JSSs, run by non-governmental organizations are important institutions which give training in different vocational skills to neo-literates. According to the present guidelines, 25% of the target group of JSSs will be from amongst the neo-literates. The scheme of Shramik Vidyapeeths has been in operation for the last 34 years but due to intensive coverage of almost the whole country under the literacy programmes and the advent of continuing education programme, it was necessary to make some changes in this scheme. Consequently, name of Shramik Vidyapeeth has been changed to Jan Shikshan Sansthan and it has been decided by Government of India that it will cover not only the labourers/workers but also the neo-literates, people belonging to the weaker section of the society, scheduled castes, scheduled tribes, women etc. It has also been decided that these JSSs will operate not only in the urban areas but also in the rural areas of the district. The guidelines of the Scheme of JSS have been designed in such a manner as to keep it free from the outside interference (governmental or non-governmental) but at the same time proper control of the Central Government has been ensured to enable it to function in a smooth manner with a singular purpose and objective. I am sure that the present guidelines will go a long way in giving the character of an independent literacy and polyvalent institution to the JSSs which will be helpful in the implementation of the scheme of Post Literacy and Continuing Education programme and improving the socio-economic status of the neo-literates.

Jan Shikshan Sansthans are non-formal vocational educational institutions for adults. By linking literacy with training, JSSs seek to improve the quality of life of the beneficiaries.

In the beginning, these institutions were organising vocational training and skill upgradation programmes mostly for industrial workers in urban areas. But after the introduction of the National Literacy Mission in 1988, almost the entire country has been covered by the literacy campaigns and now JSSs are being set up in different districts in the country to consolidate the gains of the literacy campaigns and improve the quality of life through vocational training. The JSSs now have the entire district as its area of operation and they are expected to work as district level resource support agencies in organizing vocational training programmes for neo-literates. JSSs in some places are also running Counting Education Centres and Nodal Continuing Education Centres.

JSSs are registered societies set up as Non-Governmental Organisation and the affairs of the JSSs are looked after by a Board of Management. The Government of India is keen that funds which are provided to these JSSs are utilized as per the approved pattern in meeting the needs of deprived sections of society and helping them to enhance their income generating capacities.

Keeping the above in mind, Govt. of India has revised the guidelines for management, planning and programming of the schemes of the JSS. These guidelines are expected to help JSSs in carrying out the tasks in an organized manner. It should be clarified that these guidelines are not prescriptive in nature, but indicate the broad parameters within which a JSS is expected to perform.

Introduction

1.1 The population explosion, industrial development and migration of people from rural to urban areas have resulted in the very fast growth of the urban sector in the country. Rapid urbanisation has created many socio-economic problems making life miserable, particularly for migrants and deprived communities who normally live in inhuman conditions in the slums, on pavements, in settlement and labour colonies etc. Many are first generation migrants exposed to the stark realities of complex urban life and the industrial milieu. Similar conditions affect people living in the peripheral rural areas who have links with the neighboring urban agglomerations for employment, business and services.

1.2 Lack of education and skills, both vocational and technical, have left migrants unemployed/under-employed. Even those who have got jobs in factories/industries/business establishments receive a meager sum as wage/salary and hence, they are frequently unable to make both the ends meet. Many, particularly youth, have fallen prey to anti-social elements. An urgent need, therefore, exists for specialised education integrated with awareness and functional improvement for such people.

1.3 Adult education is vitally important for these groups to improve their lives, decrease their dependency, increase their work efficiency and sharpen their capabilities for adaptation to social, economic and technological changes in the midst of their lives and work. The educational and vocational needs of these deprived sections constitute a specialised area of continuing education demanding its own strategy, institutional arrangements and techniques.

1.4 Realising this need and growing urbanization in the coming decades, the then Ministry of Education and Culture, Government of India, had started a scheme of Shramik Vidyapeeths (SVPs) - a Programme of Adult Education for Workers in Urban and Industrial areas. In the context of the country’s overall development, this programme was conceived as responding to the educational and vocational training needs of numerous groups of adults and young people. Men and women belonging mostly to the unorganized, urban informal sector, living and working in urban and industrial areas and people who had been migrating from rural to urban settings, were expected to derive substantial benefits from such a scheme.

1.5 The first Shramik Vidyapeeth was established in Mumbai (Worli) in the year 1967 and gradually the number increased to 17 upto 1983, to 58 by the end of VIII Five Year Plan i.e. 1996-97. With the sanction of 33 more Jan Shikshan Sansthans, the number has increase to 91 by the end of October, 2000. These institutions have already proved to be one of the best vocational adult education centres in the country and the courses offered by these institutions are in popular demand. Today, SVPs offer around 225 different types of vocational training programmes ranging from candle and agarbatti making to computers.

1.6 The implementation of the scheme of Shramik Vidyapeeth was evaluated by the Tata Institute of Social Sciences (TISS), Mumbai in 1993. This exercise of evaluation came after the scheme completed nearly 25 years of existence. The objective of the evaluation was mainly to throw some light on the impact of the Shramik Vidyapeeth programmes and to make suitable suggestions regarding the desirable initiatives the Shramik Vidyapeeths should take in the future. TISS submitted its final report at the end of 1993. Some of the findings of the evaluation were:

- As long as Shramik Vidyapeeths remain committed to the deprived sections of the society with their tailor-made programmes of polyvalent education, they have all the justification to exist as institutions outside the formal system and deserve financial support from the government;

- The skill-oriented programmes of the Shramik Vidyapeeths are largely directed towards enabling the beneficiaries to be engaged in self-employment;

- The Shramik Vidyapeeth scheme has the potential to equip individuals with the skills required to be gainfully employed;

- None of the existing organisational structures is in itself against the interests of the scheme of Shramik Vidyapeeth. Shramik Vidyapeeths can function effectively as autonomous, non-autonomous or semi-autonomous institutions.

Keeping in view the findings of the evaluation, Shramik Vidyapeeths have been strengthened with enhanced annual grants.
1.7 Mass Campaigns for literacy in India have been essentially campaigns for social mobilization for awakening and arousing people in all walks of life. As people’s participation in Literacy Campaigns begin to increase, their involvement in socio-economic activities also becomes more meaningful. More than 85% of the country has been covered by the Literacy Campaigns and over 150 million learners in 9-25 age group, of whom about 62% are women have been brought within its ambit. Literacy has become a significant instrument of empowerment for the poor, neo-literates and oppressed groups.

1.8 To facilitate playing a better role, the scheme of Shramik Vidyapeeth has been renamed as Jan Shikshan Sansthan (JSS) – Institute of People’s Education (IPE) – with enhanced financial support. Previously, the scheme of Shramik Vidyapeeth was restricted to urban/semi-urban industrial areas only. Considering the changing literacy scenario in the country and the large number of neo-literates to be covered under Continuing Education Programme [in which skill development/upgradation is a part], the activities of Jan Shikshan Sansthans have been expanded to provide academic and technical support to Zilla Saksharata Samities [District Literacy Committees] in taking up vocational and skill development programmes for neo-literates in both urban and rural areas and also to organize equivalency programmes through Open Learning Systems.
2. CONCEPT

2.1 Jan Shikshan Sansthan (JSS) is conceived as an institute for conducting skill upgradation in the areas of programmes of Non-formal, Adult and Continuing Education. It would also provide academic and technical resource support to Zila Saksharata Samitis in both urban and rural areas.

2.2 Thus, Jan Shikshan Sansthan (JSS) represents an institutional framework for offering Non-formal, Adult and Continuing Education Programmes to disadvantaged groups. Their activities would, therefore, include:

(i) JSS would offer vocational and skill development programmes for neo-literates in both industrial/urban and rural areas.

(ii) JSS would organize training programmes for Key Resource Persons, Master Trainers and Trainees in vocational courses and also for neo-literates.

(iii) The programmes would be based on the polyvalent or multi-dimensional approach to adult education.

2.3 The polyvalent approach attempts to provide knowledge and skills in an integrated manner and rests on the following principles:

- a worker/ neo-literate must have continuous access to education and training throughout his life;
- each programme should be need-based;
- since needs vary widely, programmes have to be diversified
- flexible
- adaptable to varying situations
2.4 The Polyvalent approach takes into account:
- learning needs
- convenience of place and time for learners and instructors variety in
  # contents
  # duration
  # methods
  # instructional arrangements

2.5 The methodology includes

  # theory,
  # practicals; and
  # field work experience.

8.1 Jan Shikshan Sansthan is a scheme of assistance to voluntary agencies enabling them to run a programme with the aims and objectives provided at page 6 of the guidelines.

8.2 In order to fulfill the objectives of the institution and to organise programmes for the identified clientele groups, each Jan Shikshan Sansthan should have qualified and experienced staff for the planning and organisation of the programmes, for developing and maintaining collaboration with other institutions/agencies and for the general administration of the Jan Shikshan Sansthan.

It is, therefore, suggested that every Jan Shikshan Sansthan must have core staff which will include one Director who will be the administrative head of the organisation. He should be assisted by suitable selected personnel who would ensure:

a. Smooth administration;
b. Regular planning and monitoring;
c. Regular and accurate maintenance of accounts;
d. Systematic conduct of programmes; and
e. Adequate supervision of activities, both at office and field levels.

The decisions with regard to the number of employees, their emoluments, their duties and functions and their designations will rest entirely with the Board of Management. The structure and shape of the staffing pattern will also fall within the purview of the Board of Management. Atleast one Programme Officer/Assistant Programme Officer/Coordinator should be woman.

As far as possible, the support services should be managed by hiring suitable service agencies so that work of a manual nature is not entrusted to employees.

8.3 The members of the staff of JSS are employees of the Sansthan/Parent Organization, as the case may be, and are not employees of the Government of India. The role of the Government of India is strictly limited to providing the registered society with financial assistance according to the approved financial pattern. This too, it provides strictly on a temporary basis and is at liberty to withdraw such assistance without assigning any reason or issuing any notice.

8.4 The members of the staff of JSS shall be engaged on contract basis with consolidated emoluments, as may be fix by the Board of Management. This will be effective from the date of issue of the guidelines by the Government of India. All the existing vacant positions shall be filled only on contract basis.

8.5 No contract shall be signed with any staff member for a period exceeding three years. Contracts for shorter period shall be signed at the discretion of the Board of Management. No contract shall be renewed after the period of expiry of the contract. A fresh contract shall be entered into.

8.6 The resources (human, physical and financial) of the JSS shall be utilised for the purpose of JSS only. Utilization of services of the Members of staff of JSS by the parent organisation, use of JSS vehicle for other purposes and other transgressions shall be treated a serious violation of these guidelines.

8.7 The Board of Management of the Sansthan may decide the emoluments to be paid to staff members within the ceiling fixed by the Govt. of India.

8.7.1 The Annual Appraisal Report for the positions in JSSs will be written by functionaries one level above the position to be reported upon. The positions for which Director will be the Reporting Officer will be reviewed by the Chairperson. For others the Director will be the Reviewing Officer.

Though in the financial pattern the allocations have been broadly indicated under 4 items only, it would be essential in the detailed budget to indicate the expenditure proposed to be incurred for each activity and sub items of expenditures should be worked out. The Action Plan along with budget should be got duly approved by the Board of Management of the Jan Shikshan Sansthan when Government of India representative is present in the meeting.

The unspent balance remaining at the end of the year shall immediately be reported to the Department so that the same is taken into account while releasing the grants for the next year. The Department’s permission would also have to be obtained for utilisation of the unspent balance of the previous year.

Re-appropriation of Funds

8.12 Normally the ceiling imposed under each broad category of expenditure will be adhered to. The general principles governing the re-appropriation under each item of expenditure would be as under:

a. Emoluments

As in the initial years, the provision under this item may not be utilised in full and the savings may be appropriated to Programme Expenditure, if required.

Board of Management of the Jan Shikshan Sansthan may allow re-appropriation from “Emoluments” and “Office Expenses” towards ‘Programme Expenditure’ based on the need and requirement.
